COURAGE

Legislative Day 2012

Tuesday, March 20 is Legislative Day hosted by New Yorker’s Family Research Foundation. The keynote speaker this year is Pastor Alex Kendrick, writer, producer and lead actor in the recently-released film Courageous. There is more information and a signup sheet in the window downstairs. Each person registering should write their check for the registration fee of $40 to the church. Next Sunday is the deadline. If you would like to attend but need financial help, please let us know.

Call to Prayer

The need to seek the Lord in prayer is greater than ever before. This past week, we have emphasized praying for the needs of family members and friends. This week, we are emphasizing the need to pray for our church and other churches. As we pray for the church, Bible passages like Ephesians 3:14-21 provide some guidance for how we should pray. As we pray for our church and others, we need to lift up the spiritual needs above the material. This church cannot survive if the people attending are not devoted to the Lord. One sure evidence of that devotion will be that people will pray for their church and other churches.

Despite its foundational Christian heritage, America is rapidly degenerating into a godless society. The church in America, although highly visible and active, appears powerless to redirect the rushing secular currents. Mired in a moral and spiritual crisis, America’s only hope is a national revival, like God has graciously bestowed in the past.

After she woke up, a woman told her husband, “I just dreamed that you gave me a pearl necklace for Valentine’s Day. What do you think it means?” “You’ll know tonight,” he said. That evening, the man came home with a small package and gave it to his wife. Delighted, she opened it to find a book entitled “The Meaning of Dreams.”

A Christian does good deeds, but doing good deeds doesn’t make one a Christian
